

Accenture Whole Testpaper

First of all I would like to thank yuvajobs for helping me in being the part of accenture family.....

The Selection Procedure 4 accenture is like this:-

We had the written exam on 19th aug 2007, it was an offcampus recruitment, around 8000+ students appeared for the test...

out of which 1800 were shortlisted for further rounds...

The written consists of three section :- 1) English

2) Aptitude

3) Analytical

In english section there were questions like, fill in the correct preposition ex:- He kept quite as he was afraid of being laughed _____ a. on b. at c. upon. d. into The correct option is b. Then there were questions like fill in the correct articles...ex:- I kept _____ glass of juice on the table a.) the b) a c) an d) no article required other questions were to find the synonym of the given word here also 4 options were given (very easy) then there were 2 passages.. first one is always easy you can find the answer directly in the passage without reading it fully... the second passage is based on understanding answers are not direct but its also easy....

In Aptitude section there are 5 questions on venn diagram, some on set theory, ages, blood relation, data sufficiency, ranking, questions on probability, and if * means 0 and $ means 1 then what, s the value for  $256 * 7 + 8$  there were 5 such questions easy but time taking..... just go through R.S agarwal then this section will be a child play for you....

In Analytical there were questions like some conditions were given and based on that 4-5 questions were there...

then if * represents +, + means -, - means /, then what was the value of the following expression.... there were 4-5 such questions

These questions are time taking I solved 2 of them in rest 3 I made wild guess.....

Its very easy to crack the test just the important thing is proper time management as you have to do 55 questions in 60 mins... first solve those questions which you can do fast and perfectly and then attempt rest doing this you will find that you've attempted 33-35 questions in just half of time.. (I did the same)

Chapters to be done - blood relation, data sufficiency, ratio prop., percentage, ranking, sitting arrangement, boats and streams, trains, time and distance, time and work, venn diagram from R. Sagarwal..... try analytical reasoning based questions from any MBA book..... remember friends written is "verrrrryyyyy easyy....."

Then there is a group round they asked us to decide the topic but since they weren't satisfied with the topics we gave....

they gave us "is the economic or financial position affecting the judicial decision Today? "

then he gave us 1 min to think over it.... he told us he was looking for communication skill, thought process, how you deal with your group

You always get bonus points for starting the discussion... don't panic if you don't start you just have to be confident and fluent in english...even if u dont know topic too well dont remain dumb speak wrong but confidently and fluently.....these people are very particular abt fluency in english

After that there was hr round..they ask abt company and general ques like why accenture???so go prepared we were not given any ppt so better gather the info abt accenture urself from sites and go prepared...i was asked top 3 IT companies.

Then I had Technical round

VERY IMP NOTE** its NOTHING that droppers are not selected...this is a huge misconception people have about accenture....many of my friends didn,t even appear 4 test ,coz of it.....I am also a dropper and is selected in accenture
